

SiteToolSet.com Launches AigleBoots.com (www.aigleboots.com)

Dallas, Texas – November 26th, 2009

SiteToolSet.com is excited to announce the release of an upgraded site for www.aigleboots.com . We have provided them with an easy to use Joomla content management system powered with the VirtueMart shopping cart which is integrated to their PayPal Pro merchant account.

The VirtueMart shopping cart system, allow the user to easily update production information including images, product content, products on special and other attributes. We also created some custom attributes that allow AigleBoots to allocate specific boot sizes that only work with specific calf width sizes, ensuring that customers are ordering accurately for each product.

We assisted the client not only in the choice of software that would meet their needs, we also provided a solution that fit their budget and assisted in each aspect of creating the site, including, design, development, working with the hosting provider, and the full site launch.

Contact SiteToolSet.com today to see how the Joomla & VirtueMart tools can assist your e-commerce needs.
